

KEYS 2 DRIVE

ACCREDITED DRIVING INSTRUCTOR

So you'd like to know the Routes that your testing officer will take you on? Those treacherous streets full of places for the young (and not so young) learner driver to record a INSTANT FAIL item?

Well let me share with you the REAL facts about what you'll need to know about where you're going to be taken.....

The RTA have several different routes that you may be taken around. It DOESN'T matter what route you are on there is criteria that will remain the same!

You are judged on:

- Your speed control
- Your road positioning
- Your use of vehicle controls
- Your decision making
- Your ability to respond to hazards that enter your CAS (crash avoidance area)

And even if you managed to completely memorise the different routes traffic conditions on the day may differ from traffic conditions on the day you went around the route!

So knowing what a particular route is makes NO difference at all, I have a laugh when I see Instructors advertising that "They will show you around the testing routes" as if that's going to be the magic elixir that will help you to pass your Ps on the first time. It Isn't!

What WILL help you pass your Ps on the first time is KNOWING YOUR ROAD RULES! And not "dropping your bundle" through nerves on the day.

Having said that, yes I do advise driving around the RTA that you are doing your test at to simply familiarise yourself with the area how to get there where to park etc (and there is no good/bad RTAs I also explain that in my book)

I have a written a book on "How To Pass Your Ps First Time" and its FREE if you do a FREE lesson with me!
